

harassment and non-redressal of grievances.

They said committee members also raised concerns on misbehaviour of officials managing departments that deal with the public. The decision to issue the order on behaviour was taken in this meeting.

The order further read, "All office staff operating the desks for handling public grievances in the district offices have to be properly sensitised about courtesy be shown to the public and guide them with proper information so that they do not have to run from pillar to post."

The order emphasises on good behaviour with senior citizens and persons with disabilities and also directs all officials in the district offices to maintain records of every public grievance and hearing.

The order was issued in light of increasing complaints of misbehaviour, officials said.
